ORGANIZATION OF TRIAL TRIBUNAL

This case was heard at the 26 October 2020 Criminal Session of New Hanover County Superior Court before the Honorable Superior Court Judge R. Kent Harrell. Following a suppression hearing, Mr. Robinson entered a plea of guilty to one count of felony possession of cocaine and one count of carrying a concealed gun. In exchange the State agreed to dismiss charges of a window tint violation, possession of MDMA, driving while license revoked, possession of marijuana, possession with intent to sell or deliver cocaine, possession with intent to sell or deliver within 1000 feet of a park, and possession with intent to sell or deliver within 1000 feet of a school.

On 29 October 2020, the court imposed a sentence of 4 to 14 months' incarceration, suspended for 12 months' supervised probation, plus court costs and fees. Oral notice of appeal was given in open court on 30 October 2020.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA IN THE GENERAL COURT OF JUSTICE
COUNTY OF NEW HANOVER SUPERIOR COURT DIVISION
FILE NUMBERS 20 CRS 51122 – 51124

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

vs.

JAQUALYN ROBINSON,

Defendant.

MOTION TO SUPPRESS

NOW COMES the Defendant, by and through the undersigned counsel, pursuant to the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution; Article I, Sections 19, 20, 23, and 24 of the Constitution of North Carolina, and Mapp v. Ohio, 367 U.S. 643, (1961), and moves this Honorable Court to exclude alleged evidence found by Wilmington Police Department Officer B. J. Galluppi and assisting law enforcement officer during the initial stop as unlawfully collected. Since the enactment of N.C. Gen. Stat. § 106-568.50 et seq., the sight or odor of Cannabis sativa does not indicate with any certainty that the Defendant was engaged in, or about to engage in any illegal activity, removing any justification of probable cause for the stop, search or seizure of evidence. In support of this Motion, the Defendant respectfully shows as follows:

1. That the Defendant is charged with the alleged offenses of Window Tinting Violation, Carrying Concealed Gun, Felony Possession Schedule I Controlled Substance, Driving While License Revoked Not Impaired Revocation, Felony Possession Schedule II Controlled Substance, Possess Marijuana up to One-Half Ounce, PWIMSD Schedule II Controlled Substance, M/S/D/P Controlled Substance within One Thousand Feet of Park, and M/S/D/P Controlled Substance withi One Thousand Feet of School in the above captioned matters.

2. That on or about February 5, 2020, Officer B. J. Galluppi with the Wilmington Police Department conducted a traffic stop of the vehicle of which Defendant was operating due to alleged window tint violation that Officer B. J. Galluppi noticed when the vehicle the Defendant was operating passed by Officer B. J. Galluppi.
3. That Officer B. J. Galluppi began questioning the Defendant.
4. That Officer B. J. Galluppi reported that he "also could smell a faint odor of marijuana coming from inside Robinson's vehicle" per the discovery.
5. That Officer B. J. Galluppi questioned the Defendant about the alleged odor of marijuana and subsequently informed the Defendant "I would search his vehicle based on the odor of marijuana smell".
6. That Officer B. J. Galluppi allegedly "located a loaded .44 Charter Arms Revovler in the arm rest" of the driver side of the vehicle which was subsequently seized by law enforcement.
7. That Officer G. Galluppi searched the Defendant's person and allegedly located "a MDMA pill in Robinson's pocket".
8. That Officer G. Galluppi assisted in the search of the vehicle the Defendant was allegedly operating and allegedly found "another MDMA pill in the back seat behind the drivers seat".
9. That the Defendant was subsequently placed under arrest and transported to the Wilmington Police Department for processing.
10. That Officer B. J. Galluppi and Corproal Norris conducted a strip search of the Defendant at Wilmington Police Department and alleged that "a clear plastic bag, fell from inside his pant leg onto the floor” when the Defendant was handing his pants over to Officer B. J. Galluppi.

11. That Officer B. J. Galluppi reported that the contents of the clear plastic bag were “.88 grams of cocaine, separated into two baggies. One bag had 4 rocks, and the other bag had a single rock. Additionally there were two separate half bags of marijuana, both combined were 3.52 grams”.
12. That the arrest of the Defendant and subsequent detention was not supported by reasonable suspicion, probable cause, or other legal justification.
13. That the conduct of Officer B. J. Galluppi and assisting law enforcement officers constituted a violation of the Defendant’s rights under the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution and was in violation of the Defendant’s rights under the North Carolina Constitution and the North Carolina General Statutes.
14. That the Defendant was seized, and evidence was obtained in violation of the Defendant’s constitutional rights as guaranteed by the 4th and 14th Amendments to the U. S. Constitution and by Article I, Section 5, 19, and 20 of the Constitution of North Carolina.
15. That the exclusion of said evidence is required by N.C.G.S. §15A-974 in that said evidence was obtained as a result of a substantial violation of Chapter 15A of the General Statutes.

BACKGROUND KNOWLEDGE OF HEMP LEGALIZATION

N.C.G.S. 106-568.50 et seq. legalized the production of industrial hemp. Under the direction of the North Carolina Industrial Hemp Commission, industrial hemp, a strain of the species Cannabis sativa defined by N.C.G.S. § 106-568.51(7), can now be legally grown and sold by licensed parties. N.C.G.S § 90-87(16) excludes industrial hemp from the definition of marijuana, which remains a controlled substance. Hemp, as defined in Chapter 106 of the General Statutes, is not a controlled substance and may be lawfully possessed by any citizen of the state.

The species Cannabis sativa includes both hemp and marijuana. As such, both contain the chemicals THC (delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol, the primary psychoactive compound in marijuana) and CBD (cannabidiol, a non-psychoactive substance which has been linked to health benefits. See generally State Bureau of Investigations, Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues at 2, https://www.sog.unc.edu/sites/www.sog.unc.edu/files/doc_warehouse/NC%20SBI%20-%20Issues%20with%20Hemp%20and%20CBD%20Full.pdf (hereinafter known as Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues). The difference between hemp, which can be legally possessed and purchased, and marijuana, which remains a controlled substance under North Carolina law, is the differing amounts of CBD and THC in the plant. See N.C.G.S § 106-568.51(7). While marijuana typically has typically lower amounts of CBD and higher amounts of the psychoactive THC, hemp has low amounts of THC and typically higher amounts of CBD. See Ernest Small et al., Hemp: A New Crop with New Uses for North America, in Trends in New Crops and New Uses 284, (J. Janick & A. Whipkey eds., 2002), <https://www.hort.purdue.edu/newcrop/ncnu02/v5-284.html> (noting the common inverse relationship between amounts of THC and CBD in Cannabis). The NC Department of Agriculture routinely inspects licensed industrial hemp to ensure that the THC amount is within acceptable limitations (less than 0.3% of the sample's dry weight, compared to 3-15% for traditional marijuana). See North Carolina Department of Agricultural & Consumer Services, Industrial Hemp Pilot Program in North Carolina: Frequently Asked Questions, at <https://www.ncagr.gov/hemp/FAQs.htm> (hereinafter known as Industrial Hemp Pilot Program in North Carolina: Frequently Asked Questions).

The only way to determine if a substance is hemp or marijuana is by testing the chemical composition to measure the THC level. See Industrial Hemp Pilot Program in North Carolina: Frequently Asked Questions (noting that “short of chemical analysis of the THC content, there was no way to distinguish between marijuana and hemp varieties”). There is currently no field test in North Carolina which can differentiate between hemp and marijuana. See Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues at 2. As acknowledged in Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues, this situation creates problems for law enforcement officials attempting to enforce current restrictions on the possession, sale, and distribution of marijuana.

ARGUMENT

The Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution protects American citizens from unlawful and arbitrary seizure of property by the state. Improperly seized evidence, even if indicative of criminal activity, is inadmissible in court as a violation of this Constitutional protection of our rights. See Mapp 367 U.S. at 659. While a lawful search generally requires a warrant, there are exceptions recognized by North Carolina case law. See State v. Greenwood, 301 N.C.705, 708 (1981) (“...the smell of marijuana gave the officer probable cause to search the automobile for the contraband drug”). Since the adoption of N.C.G.S. § 106-568.50 et seq. and the subsequent legalization of industrial hemp, an officer cannot rely on sight and smell of what he believes to be marijuana to form the basis of probable cause to search or seize.

In order to be admissible, evidence must be lawfully obtained by the police. See Mapp 367 U.S. at 655 (“...all evidence obtained by searches and seizures in violation of the Constitution is, by that same authority, inadmissible in a state court”). Because marijuana and legal hemp are indistinguishable by sight or smell, See generally Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues, there is no way for an officer to establish probable cause for a search based on sight or smell alone. To establish probable cause, the officer must show “at that moment the facts and circumstances within their knowledge and of which they had reasonably trustworthy information were sufficient to warrant a prudent man in believing that the petitioner had committed or was committing an offense.” See Beck v. Ohio, 379 U.S. 89, 91 (1964). While State v. Fletcher, 92 N.C. App. 50, 57 (1988), held that police officers could identify marijuana without a chemical analysis, the legalization of industrial hemp means that previously accepted means of identification are no longer useful. See Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues at 2 (“Hemp and marijuana look the same and have the same odor, both unburned and burned. This makes it impossible for law enforcement to use the appearance of marijuana or the odor of marijuana to develop probable cause for arrest, seizure of the item, or probable cause for a search warrant”). As noted by Peg Dorer, director of the North Carolina Conference of District Attorneys in her testimony before the Senate Agriculture, Environment, and Natural Resources committee on May 30, 2019, “Law enforcement cannot discern the difference between smokable hemp and marijuana, and our State Crime Lab cannot discern the difference because they can’t discern the level of the THC that it contains.” See Laurie Leslie, Law enforcement fears NC’s effort to boost hemp industry could essentially legalize marijuana, WRAL, May 31, 2019, <https://www.wral.com/law-enforcement-fears-nc-s-effort-to-boost-hemp-industry-could-essentially-legalize-marijuana/18421082/>.

Because an officer cannot determine if a suspect possesses marijuana or hemp, there is no way that an officer can prudently “believ[e] that the [defendant] had committed or was committing an offense” based on sight and smell alone. Lacking probable cause to begin a search, all evidence collected based upon the odor/sight of a substance indistinguishable from legally purchased hemp is inadmissible under the Fourth Amendment and comparable provisions of the State constitution.

Even if the defendant possesses marijuana, an unlawful seizure would be needed to make that factual determination. Other than unscientific guesses about the nature of the substance, an officer in the field cannot say with certainty if a substance is hemp or marijuana. See Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues at 1 (“...one would need a chemical analysis to tell the difference”). Because the 4th Amendment also protects against seizure of property absent a warrant or probable cause, there is no effective way for the State to identify if the substance is legal or not. For the specific variety of hemp which grows leaves and buds that resemble marijuana, “...one would need a chemical analysis to tell the difference.” See Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues at 1. There are currently no tests which can be used by an officer in the field that differentiate hemp and marijuana. See id. Even the NC State Crime Lab lacks the capability to do more than identify the presence of THC which is found in both hemp and marijuana. See id. Without a way to distinguish between the two strains of Cannabis sativa, there can be no probable cause for the seizure required to test the illegality of the substance. The State cannot seize property absent probable cause, see Mapp v. Ohio, 367 U.S. at 655-56, and the seizure of Cannabis sativa to test for illegality is a violation of the right to avoid arbitrary state intrusion. Without additional indicia of a crime, based on something more than sight or smell of cannabis, the lack of probable cause makes the seizure unconstitutional and without the seizure there can be no factual determination the substance is not legally owned industrial hemp.

Because there is no way for an officer to determine if the substance is hemp or marijuana, and because the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution; and Article I, Sections 19, 20, 23, and 24 of the Constitution of North Carolina, protects against arbitrary search and seizure of goods by the police, any evidence collected on the basis of the sight/smell of a substance that resembles marijuana lacks probable cause and is inadmissible in court.

CONCLUSION

1. The Fourth Amendment to the Constitution and comparable state constitutional provisions demand that probable cause exist for a search or seizure to be deemed lawful. As there is no factual way for the state to differentiate between legal hemp and marijuana, an officer cannot have information "sufficient to warrant a prudent man in believing that the petitioner had committed or was committing an offense..." see Beck v. Ohio, 379 U.S. at 91, based on sight or smell of the plant Cannabis sativa alone.
2. In the above captioned case, Officer B. J. Galluppi alleged that he "could smell a faint odor of marijuana coming from inside Robinson's vehicle" while speaking to the defendant and that he "would search his vehicle based on the odor of marijuana smell" per the discovery.
3. The officer had no probable cause to conduct a search of the defendant's person nor the vehicle he was a passenger in based solely on sight/smell of what he believed to be Cannabis sativa as the purchase of legal hemp products (identical in odor and appearance to marijuana) is allowed by N.C.G.S. § 106-568.50 et seq.

It is the command of both the State and Federal constitution that the accused receive a fair trial and the due process of law. To allow admittance of evidence collected through a search conducted without probable cause would unduly prejudice the Defendant and would violate his rights under the 4th, 5th, 6th and 14th Amendments of the United States Constitution and Articles 19, 20, 23, and 24 of the North Carolina Constitution.

RELIEF SOUGHT

WHEREFORE, the Defendant moves this Honorable Court to:

1. Summarily grant this Motion and enter an Order suppressing any and all evidence obtained as a result of the illegal search and seizure of the Defendant and or his property, including any evidence subsequently obtained as a result of the unconstitutional actions of the Officer;
2. Alternatively, that this Honorable Court conduct a pretrial evidentiary hearing in order to receive evidence and make findings as to the legality of the Officer's action.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, :

vs. :

JAQUALYN ROBINSON,
Defendant. :

AFFIDAVIT

Affiant, first being duly sworn, states the following:

1. I am the attorney of record in the above captioned matter.
2. I have read the Motion to Suppress which is being filed contemporaneously with this Motion.
3. The Motion to Suppress was prepared after an investigation and review of the discovery which was provided to my office by the State of North Carolina.
4. The facts as set forth in the Defendant's Motion to Suppress based on information provided in discovery are true and accurate to the best of my knowledge as set out below from the discovery in the above referenced matters:

"On 02/05/2020 16:09 hrs, I, Officer Benjamin GALLUPPI, was sitting in the parking lot of 1102 Dawson St., facing Northbound perpendicular to Dawson St. I was looking Westbound on Dawson St. and saw a dark colored CHrysler 300, traveling Eastbound on Dawson St. with extremely dark windows.

As the Chrysler passed by, I was unable to see inside the vehicle due to the window tint, and it was daytime outside. I pulled out behind the Chrysler 300, noting the license plate was NC - HCS6595. I was unable to see in the rear window to see any occupants. I also did not see the green DMV sticker used for those for who had window tint exceptions. I initiated my emergency lights and siren to signal to the driver, I was pulling him over. The Chrysler turned onto Southbound S. 17th St. and continued driving. The driver then turned right onto Wright St. where he pulled over and stopped. I walked up to the drivers side window, which had originally been 1/2 way down during my approach. The driver was identified as JAQUALYN ROBINSON. When asked, ROBINSON stated he left his drivers license at the house. He stated the the vehicle belonged to him. He was also on his cell phone, however I did not hear him talking to anyone. He provided registration that indicicated that the vehicle was registered to him. I informed ROBINSON the reason I stopped him was his window tint. I then went back to my patrol vehicle to run and see if ROBINSON was who he claimed to be. I also could smell a faint odor of marijuana coming from inside ROBINSON'S vehicle. He was also the only occupant inside same. I found that ROBINSON'S license was showing suspended in CJLEADS. I walked back up to ROBINSON, who was still seated in the vehicle and had him step out. He informed me he was having his cousin come to pick him up. I had ROBINSON come back to my passenger seat, where he still remained on the phone. I asked ROBINSON multiple times if he would end his conversation which he finally did. I asked ROBINSON about his drivers license being suspended, which he stated it was for a failure to appear ticket. I asked if his license was still suspended, and he said "it probably is now" While talking to ROBINSON, I inquired if he had anyone inside his vehicle recently, which he said no. I inquired about the marijuana smell which he stated there was no marijuana in the car. He stated it might have been from the guy he dropped off, but no one smokes in his vehicle. I explained to ROBINSON that I would search his vehicle based on the marijuana smell and had him stand by with another officer. I asked ROBINSON if there were any weapons inside his vehicle, and he shook his head no, and said softly "no" I started a search of the Chrysler 300 at the front passenger side, where It had a strong odor of marijuana. I located a loaded .44 Charter Arms Revolver in the arm rest. I then walked back and placed ROBINSON in handcuffs and had him put in my vehicle.

Ofer G. GALLUPPI conducted a search of ROBINSON, and located a MDMA pill in ROBINSON'S pocket. Ofcr. G. GALLUPPI assisted me in further search of the vehicle, and he located another MDMA pill in the back seat behind the drivers seat which was the same style as the one located on ROBINSON. A further search, yielded nothing inside the vehicle. I tested ROBINSON' S windows utilizing Laser Labs Inspector II, which is an approved window tint device, and his rear driver side window registered at 0%. The vehicle was released to ROBINSON' S cousin who responded to the scene per his request. ROBINSON was arrested and transported to WPD. Upon arrival, Cpl. NORRIS assisted me in conducted a strip search of ROBINSON. We escorted him to the bathroom inside the holding area. I could smell the odor of marijuana on ROBINSON as I walked behind him. I asked ROBINSON to remove his shirt, upon which ROBINSON claimed he was feeling sick and needed to throwup. ROBINSON further claimed that he needed to sit down. I had him remove his shoes, and then his pants, which he had black shorts on under his pants. As ROBINSON removed his pants and handed them to me, a clear plastic bag, fell from inside his pant leg onto the floor. I looked over at ROBINSON, which his gaze looked at the bag, then immediately looked to the floor. Nothing else was located on ROBINSON'S person. Inside the bag that fell to the floor was .88 grams of crack cocaine, separated into two baggies. One bag had 4 rocks, and the other bag had a single rock. Additionally there were two separate half bags of marijuana, both combined were 3.52 grams. I made a check of nearby schools and parks from the route that I saw ROBINSON drive. I found that ROBINSON had passed within 1000 feet of both Mark W. Howe Pre-K Center, and Tower Park A check of ROBINSON' S record indicated that he had a pending CCW charge. He was charged with: Window tint, suspended license, CCW - gun, Possession of MDMA, possession crack (cocaine), Possess Marijuana, PWIMSD cocaine, possess w/i 1000' park, posses w/i 1000' school."

Industrial Hemp/CBD Issues

Background

Session Law 2015-299 established the North Carolina Industrial Hemp Commission and initiated a pilot program to study the feasibility of industrial hemp as a crop in NC. Industrial hemp is the plant species Cannabis Sativa, which is the same species as marijuana. Industrial hemp contains low levels of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), which is the psychoactive ingredient in marijuana, a Schedule VI controlled substance in NC. Industrial hemp is engineered to contain high levels of cannabidiol (CBD), which is not psychoactive and has many alleged health benefits including treatment for some forms of epilepsy. It should be noted that the FDA recently approved a pharmaceutical CBD drug called Epidiolex, which can be prescribed by a physician for epilepsy. This is the only FDA approved use of CBD for a medical condition.

There are several types of industrial hemp:

1. One variety is grown for seed oils. Oil is extracted from the seeds and used in various food products such as bread, shampoos, and granola products;
2. One variety looks like long stalks of bamboo and is grown for fiber for textiles and rope; and
3. One variety looks like marijuana and grows "buds" just like marijuana. CBD is extracted from the buds. This type looks just like marijuana, including the leaves and buds, and it smells the same as marijuana. In fact, there is no way for an individual to tell the difference by looking at the plant; one would need a chemical analysis to tell the difference.

The NC Department of Agriculture (NC DAG) oversees the growers of industrial hemp in NC by providing licenses to growers who qualify. NC DAG performs inspections of fields and indoor grown space and takes plant samples which are tested to determine the percentage of THC. If the percentage of THC is determined to be greater than 0.3%, NC DAG burns the plants. NC DAG's lab has the capability to determine the percentage of THC; however, they outsource the testing to a private lab in Durham due to the high number of samples that are submitted.

Due to the popularity of CBD, the overwhelming majority of NC licensees are growing the CBD producing variety of hemp, rather than the variety for clothing and rope. As of July 2018, there were 348 licensed growers on 4548 licensed acres and in 1,630,485 square feet of indoor greenhouse space. As of January 2019, there were well over 500 licensed growers in NC. There are a number of large processing facilities that have recently opened in NC. Hemp grown in NC, as well as many other states, are processed into various CBD containing products in these facilities. These products include balms, lotions, salve, oils, capsules, cigarettes, cigars, and "buds." There are CBD dispensaries that have opened in NC in order to sell these products; in addition, the products are sold in hundreds of tobacco shops, convenience stores, and pharmacies. CBD liquids are sold for vaping. Food products labeled to contain CBD are sold in stores across NC in the form of gummies, trail mix, lollipops, and many other food products. These products are expensive; with a small 4-ounce bottle of CBD oil sold for $80.00 or a small bag of CBD trail mix for $40.00. These products are being sold in large quantities, with little oversight by a regulatory body. Recently the FDA banned CBD from food products, dietary supplements, and products claiming medicinal benefits. Currently, the NC DAG is sending letters to notify store owners that they cannot sell food products containing CBD.

Issues for Law Enforcement

There is no easy way for law enforcement to distinguish between industrial hemp and marijuana. There is currently no field test which distinguishes the difference.

Hemp and marijuana look the same and have the same odor, both unburned and burned. This makes it impossible for law enforcement to use the appearance of marijuana or the odor of marijuana to develop probable cause for arrest, seizure of the item, or probable cause for a search warrant. In order for a law enforcement officer to seize an item to have it analyzed, the officer must have probable cause that the item being seized is evidence of a crime. The proposed legislation makes possession of hemp in any form legal. Therefore, in the future when a law enforcement officer encounters plant material that looks and smells like marijuana, he/she will no longer have probable cause to seize and analyze the item because the probable cause to believe it is evidence of a crime will no longer exist since the item could be legal hemp. Police narcotics K9's cannot tell the difference between hemp and marijuana because the K9's are trained to detect THC which is present in both plants. Law enforcement officers cannot distinguish between paraphernalia used to smoke marijuana and paraphernalia used to smoke hemp for the same reasons. The inability for law enforcement to distinguish the difference between hemp and marijuana is problematic in all marijuana prosecutions, from small amounts to trafficking amounts of plant material. There is at least one District Attorney's Office in NC which is currently not prosecuting marijuana cases due to the inability of law enforcement to distinguish the difference between hemp and marijuana.

While NC DAG oversees the hemp growers in NC to ensure that the THC levels are within legal limits, there is currently no regulation of hemp and CBD products. This is particularly concerning because processors in NC are making hemp and CBD products using hemp grown all over the US. We do not verify that hemp grown in another state contains less than the percentage THC required by law, which means that products made in NC may contain a higher percentage of THC than what is allowed by law. Retail products currently sold in NC include hemp "buds" or plant material, hand rolled hemp cigarettes and hemp cigars, CBD/Hemp oils, and edible candies, gummies, and food products. Law enforcement has encountered employees in some businesses who encourage the purchase of hemp products as a legal marijuana alternative. Consumers can currently purchase hemp buds and rolling papers in the same store and then roll a hemp "joint" and smoke it. (Note: On the last page of this document is a series of photographs of "hemp" products sold in stores in NC).

The North Carolina State Crime Laboratory does not conduct testing to differentiate between hemp and marijuana. The State Crime Lab, as well as most municipal crime labs in NC, perform a qualitative analysis on plant material to determine whether THC is present. All hemp and CBD products contain some level of THC; therefore, the crime labs will report these products as containing marijuana or THC, which are both Schedule VI controlled substances. While it has been suggested that additional funds be allocated to the Crime Lab in order to add additional chemists and equipment to conduct the quantitative analysis described above, this will not resolve the issue. As previously mentioned, law enforcement cannot seize an item without probable cause that the item is evidence of a crime. Not being able to distinguish between hemp and marijuana defeats the previous basis for probable cause to seize items believed to be marijuana.

Many products for sale in commercial businesses are intentionally mislabeled to contain CBD, but they contain harmful Schedule I controlled substances, synthetic cannabinoids, "bath salts," and other adulterants such as rat poison. Law enforcement cannot rely on the product labels to accurately identify the ingredients or percentages. For example, if a package of hemp "buds" has a label that states it contains less than 0.3% THC, law enforcement cannot rely on the label to be accurate. The product could contain marijuana or another controlled substance. But law enforcement does not currently have the legal right to seize the product and the crime labs do not have the ability to confirm the percentages. The crime labs can only identify THC or other controlled substances.

According to the FDA, CBD cannot be contained in food products such as gummies, lollipops, etc. This is particularly concerning for several reasons: first, children could purchase these products as there is no purchasing age limit; secondly, these products may be mislabeled and contain other psychoactive substances such as THC or Schedule I synthetic cannabinoids.

The FDA approved a product called Epidiolex, which contains CBD, for use in cases of epilepsy and this product can be prescribed by a physician. There are many hemp and CBD products on the market, and individuals are self-prescribing these products for things such as pain management, anxiety, sleep disorders, and autism, even though CBD has not been scientifically proven or approved for use with these conditions. Users of these products will test positive for THC during employer random narcotics screening and their employment may be terminated for unlawful drug use. A narcotics screening only tests for the presence of THC, not the percentage of THC.

Possible Solutions

The North Carolina Farm Act of 2019 (Senate Bill 315), which was filed on March 20, 2019, formalizes NC's Industrial Hemp program and the Industrial Hemp Commission moving forward. This bill adds Chapter 106-568.67, which requires no license to possess, handle, transport, or sell hemp products or extracts. This bill modifies the definition of marijuana in Chapter 90-87 to exclude hemp, hemp products, or hemp extracts.

The unintended consequence upon passage of this bill is that marijuana will be legalized in NC because law enforcement cannot distinguish between hemp and marijuana and prosecutors could not prove the difference in court. Every quantity of hemp and/or marijuana is important for police investigations, from the cigarette to the "dime" bag to a bale.

There are several possible solutions which allow farmers in NC to grow industrial hemp, but also allow the criminal justice system to continue to seize marijuana, and charge and prosecute marijuana offenses. Below is a listing of possible solutions:

1) Limit the varieties of hemp that can be grown in NC to those which are used in rope, clothing, and paper. Do not allow the variety of hemp that produces "buds" similar to marijuana.

2) Modify the definition of marijuana in 90-87(16) as follows:

(16) "Marijuana" means all parts of the plant of the genus Cannabis, whether growing or not; the seeds thereof; the resin extracted from any part of such plant; and every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such plant, its seeds or resin, but shall not include the mature stalks of such plant, fiber produced from such stalks, oil, or cake made from the seeds of such plant, any other compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such mature stalks (except the resin extracted therefrom), fiber, oil, or cake, or the sterilized seed of such plant which is incapable of germination. The term does not include industrial hemp as defined in G.S. 106-568.51, when the industrial hemp is produced in compliance with rules issued by the North Carolina Industrial Hemp Commission and provided to a processor. The possession or sale of hemp in any other circumstance, unless in lawful possession pursuant to the North Carolina Epilepsy Act, is unlawful.

In addition to 1) and 2), the following conditions are warranted:

- An individual must be 18 or older to purchase or possess hemp, hemp extract, and CBD products.
- Provide immunity for law enforcement officers who seize hemp and hemp products during the course of an investigation, even if the products fall within the legal limits of THC and CBD.
- Clarify that all paraphernalia used to smoke plant-based materials (whether hemp or marijuana) is illegal.

Alternative solutions may include:

- Plant based materials and plant based commercial products cannot be made in hemp processing facilities in NC. Only oils, balms, lotions, salves, etc. can be made in these facilities.
- Hemp in plant form cannot leave processing facilities.

- Hemp in plant form cannot be sold by processors or commercial businesses. It can only be sold by NC farmers with a license from the NC Department of Agriculture.
- Mandate that only growers and processors with a license from the NC Industrial Hemp Commission can possess hemp or hemp plants. Any other person who possesses hemp or hemp plants will be charged with possession of a Schedule VI controlled substance.
- Hemp and CBD containing edibles such as candies, gummies, lollipops, brownies, etc. cannot be sold or possessed in NC. No edible hemp and CBD food products. (this follows FDA regulations)
- Place a ban on smoking hemp, hemp products, hemp extracts, and CBD products.
- Regulate CBD oils to ensure they oils sold in NC are produced by NC farmers, tested by the Department of Ag to fall within legal limits of THC and CBD. The oil products could have a label and tax stamp. Any CBD products without this tax stamp would be illegal to manufacture, sell, or possess.
- Place a tax stamp on all hemp grown in NC and CBD products manufactured in NC. This stamp could go on all products by NC licensed growers and processors. This tax stamp would allow for the product to be followed from the field to the processor to the store. It would ensure that hemp grown by NC farmers is being sold to NC processors, and then sold in NC retail stores. It also ensures that the products fall within the legal THC limits. Any hemp and CBD products without the tax stamp would be illegal to manufacture, sell, or possess.
- License hemp/CBD retail stores in NC. A store must be on the approved list to sell hemp and CBD products.
- Add Epidiolex to Schedule V so it can be prescribed by physicians in NC. This is an FDA approved pharmaceutical form of CBD which is already a Federal Schedule V controlled substance.

Law enforcement fears NC's effort to boost hemp industry could essentially legalize marijuana

RALEIGH, N.C. — North Carolina agriculture officials envision hemp as a major cash crop for the state, but law enforcement officials told lawmakers Thursday that the push to boost the industry could essentially legalize marijuana because of the difficulty in telling the two cannabis plants apart.

Much of the annual farm bill under consideration in the General Assembly is dedicated to setting up the necessary state infrastructure to regulate hemp production now that the federal government has loosened its restrictions on hemp.

When North Carolina first legalized growing hemp as a pilot project in 2015, the market for the crop was primarily textiles and rope. Since then, however, the fastest growth in the market – and the highest profits – are in smokable hemp products.

Smokable hemp flowers, or so-called pre-rolls, contain CBD but almost no THC, the active compound in marijuana. But they look and smell just like marijuana.

"Law enforcement cannot discern the difference between smokable hemp and marijuana, and our State Crime Lab cannot discern the difference because they can't discern the level of the THC that it contains," Peg Dorer, director of the North Carolina Conference of District Attorneys, told members of the Senate Agriculture, Environment and Natural Resources committee on Thursday.

The farm bill would create a presumption in state law that licensed hemp farmers aren't growing marijuana, but Dorer said that creates a loophole that would basically legalize marijuana in the state.

"Law enforcement will not be able to seize or arrest for marijuana because they can't tell, and prosecutors will have a very difficult time and will not be able to prosecute any violations of marijuana laws," she said.

Hemp industry advocates said technology that can tell smokable hemp from marijuana is commercially available to law enforcement, and hemp farmers already growing smokable products said eliminating that market could cripple their businesses.

Farmer Lori Lacy told lawmakers that she had never heard of smokable flowers before she started growing hemp in rural Macon County. But now, they're key to her bottom line.

"I don't want our infrastructure, everything we've done to this point, to go away," Lacy said. "I will have to fire people or let them go. I will not have positions that I currently have for people that are working for me right now."

Rod Leary said smokable hemp flowers are keeping his third-generation greenhouse business going. A ban would close his doors, he said.

"It was a concern because there's so many contracts out there that we have, and we worry about it crippling our business," Leary said.

The current version of the farm bill, which hasn't yet cleared any committee, would allow farmers to continue growing smokeable hemp flowers until December 2020 while the industry, law enforcement and state regulators work out some sort of agreement.

Smokable hemp, pot are too hard to tell apart — so both should be illegal, NC cops say

North Carolina's top law enforcement officials and prosecutors want the General Assembly to ban "smokable hemp," a plant very similar to marijuana but with almost none of the chemical that causes users to feel high.

In a joint letter, the state associations of sheriffs, police chiefs and district attorneys, and the State Bureau of Investigation, asked lawmakers to pass provisions in the North Carolina Farm Act that would make it illegal to have smokable hemp unless you're a licensed farmer producing the plant for CBD products.

"There is no practical way for law enforcement officers to distinguish the flowering variety of hemp (i.e. smokable hemp) from marijuana because it is the same plant," the letter says. "The plant looks and smells the same (unburned or burned), whether it is hemp or marijuana. The only difference is the level of THC contained in the plant."

Without a new ban on the hemp flower, the groups say, "we will have de facto legalization of marijuana."

Hemp looks and smells like pot, but it can only have trace amounts of the illegal chemical compound THC. Hemp does, however, contain CBD, which has been growing in popularity as an herbal supplement.

The state Senate's Farm Act has pitted police against farmers in the lobbying fight over regulating hemp in North Carolina, The News & Observer reported last summer. Hemp was illegal in the state for years, but lawmakers began easing regulations on the plant as demand for tobacco dropped and farmers looked for new cash crops.

"We'll be employing about 90 North Carolinians, in an economically distressed rural county, at an average wage that is high above the median wage for that community — and with benefits," said Scott Propheter, a vice president with North Carolina hemp producer Criticality, The News and Observer reported.

But the state's law enforcement officials say there are too many risks.

"There is currently no validated field test which distinguishes the difference between smokable hemp and marijuana. Police narcotics detection K9's cannot tell the difference between smokable hemp and marijuana because the K9's are trained to detect THC which is present in both plants," the letter from law enforcement officials said.

And, they said, the state crime lab does not have the equipment it needs to test THC levels to determine what is legal and what's not.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
COUNTY OF NEW HANOVER

IN THE GENERAL COURT OF JUSTICE
SUPERIOR COURT DIVISION
FILE #: 20-CRS-51122, 51123, & 51124

v.

JAQUALYN ROBINSON,
Defendant.

ORDER ON DEFENDANT'S MOTION TO SUPPRESS

THIS MATTER came before the undersigned Superior Court Judge in and for the County of New Hanover on defendant's motion to suppress on the 29th day of October, 2020. The Court having reviewed the motion, having heard the evidence presented and the arguments of counsel finds:

1. That on or about February 5, 2020 Officer Ben Galluppi was on routine patrol in the area of Dawson Street and 11th in the City of Wilmington.
2. Officer Galluppi was stationary when he saw a blue Chrysler 300 drive by on Dawson Street that had extremely dark tint on the windows which he believed were in violation of the statute.
3. Officer Galluppi pursued the vehicle and activated his blue lights. The vehicle pulled over near 15th.
4. Upon approaching the vehicle, Officer Galluppi detected what he believed to be an odor of marijuana emanating from the vehicle.
5. The defendant was the driver of the vehicle. He had no license but provided his vehicle registration.
6. Officer Galluppi requested back up to assist in a potential search of the vehicle.
7. Officer Galluppi returned to the defendant's vehicle when back up arrived and removed the defendant from the vehicle. The defendant was taken to the patrol car and placed in the front seat.
8. Officer Galluppi then questioned the defendant about his license status and defendant answered those questions. The defendant was not advised of his Miranda rights.

9. Officer Galluppi then conducted a search of the vehicle with the assistance of another officer. The search revealed a handgun in the console and a non-descript pill under the back seat.
10. The defendant was then placed under arrest and transported to the Wilmington Police Department for processing. While at the police department, the defendant was strip searched. While removing his clothing, a plastic pouch fell from defendant's pants which contained two separate baggies; one containing a green leafy substance and the other containing a white rock like substance.
11. The Court took judicial notice of a State Bureau of Investigations bulletin regarding the similarities of marijuana and hemp. The court took judicial notice of the bulletin only to the extent that physical properties and characteristics of the two plants were discussed. Legal conclusions and opinions contained in that bulletin were disregarded as the State Bureau of Investigation does not have legal authority to issue binding opinions on the sufficiency of evidence to establish probable cause. Marijuana and hemp share very similar physical characteristics and it is difficult to tell one from the other either by appearance or by smell.

Based on the forgoing findings of fact, the Court concludes as a matter of law:

1. That Officer Galluppi had reasonable suspicion for the stop of the vehicle based on the possible window tint violation.
2. That the odor of marijuana emanating from the vehicle provided sufficient probable cause for a warrantless search of the vehicle under the automobile exception to the Fourth Amendment warrant requirement.
3. The fact that marijuana and hemp share similar characteristics and have a similar odor does not negate the ability of law enforcement to use the odor of a potentially controlled substance as a sufficient basis to establish probable cause for the warrantless search of a vehicle. Marijuana is still an illegal substance in this state.
4. Officer Galluppi's questioning of the defendant after the defendant was placed in the patrol car constituted a custodial interrogation.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that the defendant's motion to suppress is denied as to the evidence seized. The motion is granted as to the statements made by the defendant after he was placed in Officer Galluppi's patrol vehicle.

This the 28th day of October, 2020.

Material opposite unmarked squares is to be disregarded as surplusage.

02:50:18 1 Mr. Robinson, as the Court can tell from the
2 transcript, is 23 years old. He lives in Wingate, which I
3 believe is Union County, so we would be asking that the 4 Court allow this case to be transferred to Union County.

02:50:32 5 He is, I believe, the oldest; that he has four 6 younger brothers. I've had the opportunity to speak with 7 his mother. She is very active in his life in terms of the 8 Court. It's my understanding that currently, he, I guess,
9 is the -- I'd say that at least one or two of his brothers
02:50:55 10 may be in his custody as they live together and his mother 11 lives with her significant other.

12 Judge, he is employed. I believe he's employed 13 with --

14 Bugs or Bogs? I'm sorry?

02:51:05 15 (Counsel and defendant confer.)

16 MS. DOBSON: -- Berry Global Paving. He has been 17 working there for a year as of February of this year, so 18 going on two years next year.

19 Judge, in light of the plea that has been 02:51:17 20 tendered, I would ask the Court to consider striking the 21 community service fee and potentially, at least, waiving a 22 portion of his supervision fees.

23 For attorney's fees, Judge, I have been trying to 24 calculate that as I was sitting here. Judge, I would submit 02:51:39 25 about four-and-a-half hours, and I believe that that total

02:51:46 1 would be $270.

2 THE COURT: All right. Thank you, Ms. Dobson.
3 Mr. Van Trigt, anything else on behalf of the 4 State?

02:51:57 5 MR. VAN TRIGT: Judge, I do have a petition and 6 order disposing of the firearm.

7 THE COURT: All right.

8 MR. VAN TRIGT: If I may approach with that?

9 THE COURT: Yes.

02:52:20 10 All right. Madam Clerk, take this judgment:
11 20-CRS-51123, the defendant having pled guilty to the Class 12 I felony of possession of cocaine; in 20-CRS-51122, the 13 defendant having pled guilt to the Class II misdemeanor of 14 carrying a concealed gun. The Court will order those 02:52:37 15 charges be consolidated for judgment.

16 The Court's determined the prior record points of 17 the defendant to be two placing him at prior record level
18 II. The Court makes no written findings because the prison
19 term imposed is within the presumptive range of sentences
02:52:50 20 authorized.

21 The Court will order the defendant in this case to 22 serve a minimum of 4, maximum 14 months in the custody of 23 the North Carolina Department of Adult Corrections.

24 That sentence is suspended. The defendant is 02:53:02 25 placed on supervised probation for a period of 12 months.
